Congregational Identity

5/1/16 Service

Our church is more influenced by history and tradition OR Contemporary Ideas

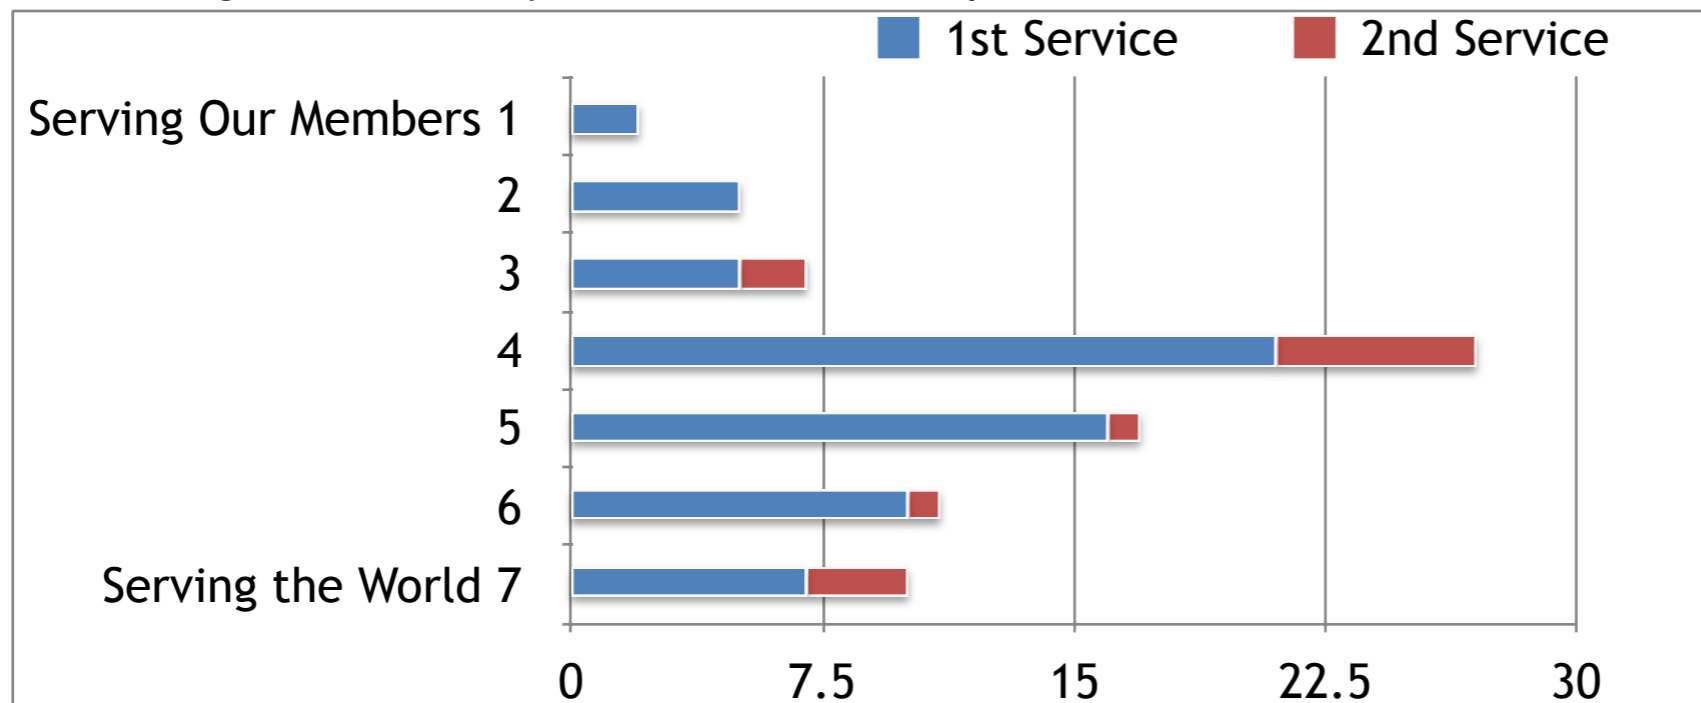

Our members are similar to OR very different from the people who live immediately around the church.

Our church is very involved OR not at all involved with the community around the church.

Our church is primarily oriented to serving our members OR to serving the world beyond our membership.

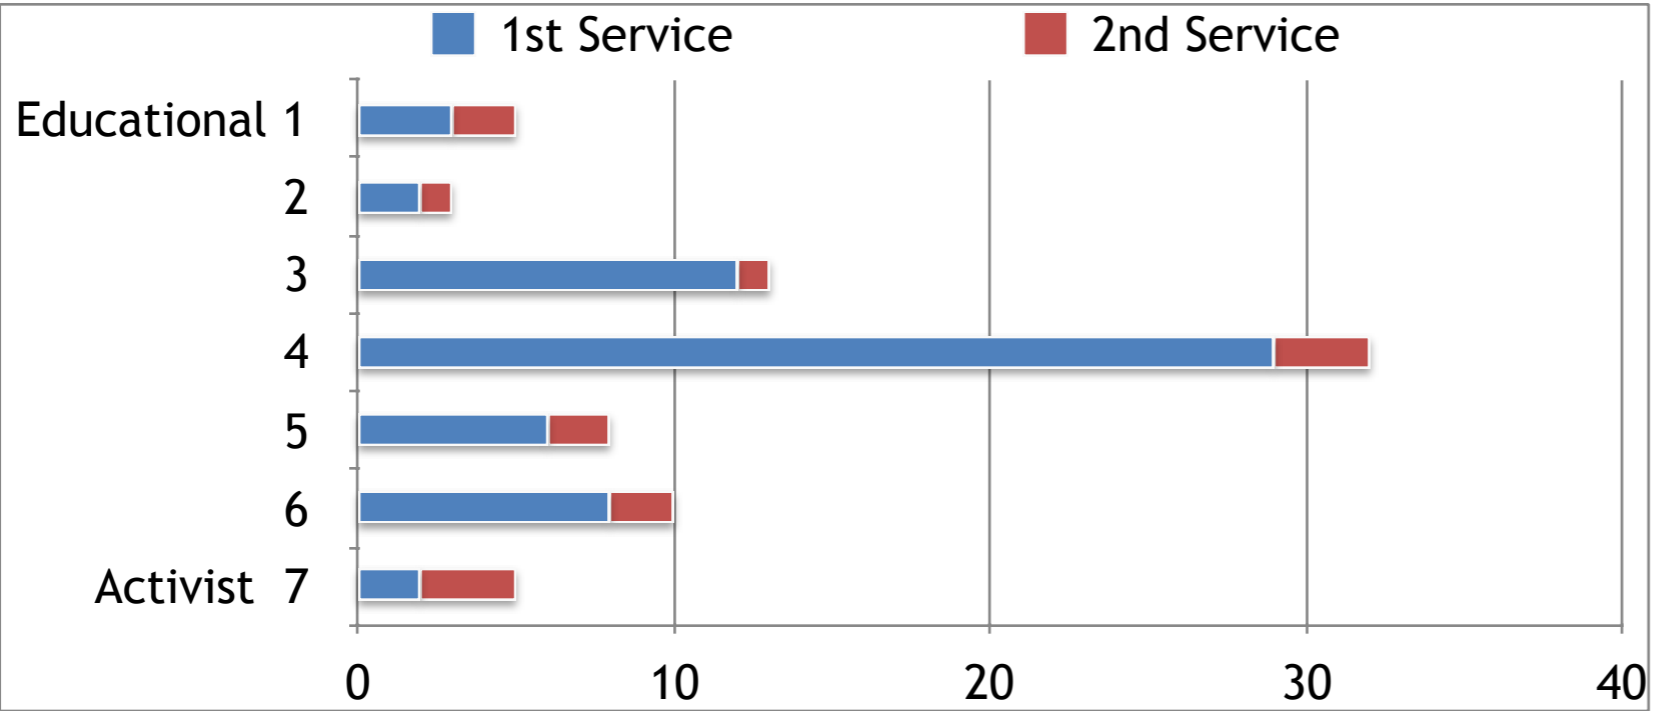

Our congregation feels like one large family OR like a loosely knit association of individuals and groups.

Our church is known as a prestigious one in the area OR is not considered one of the "status" churches in the area.

Our church's approach to social issues is basically educational, leaving any action to individual conscience OR is decidedly "activist". We take stands on social issues as a congregation.

Our congregation's approach to individual salvation emphasizes education, nurture and gradual growth in faith OR stresses conversion and a born-again experience.

Our congregation gives strong expression to our denominational identity and heritage OR it's difficult to know to which denomination our congregation belongs.

Our congregation strives to create partnerships with other local churches OR prefers to work by ourselves or through our denominational channels.

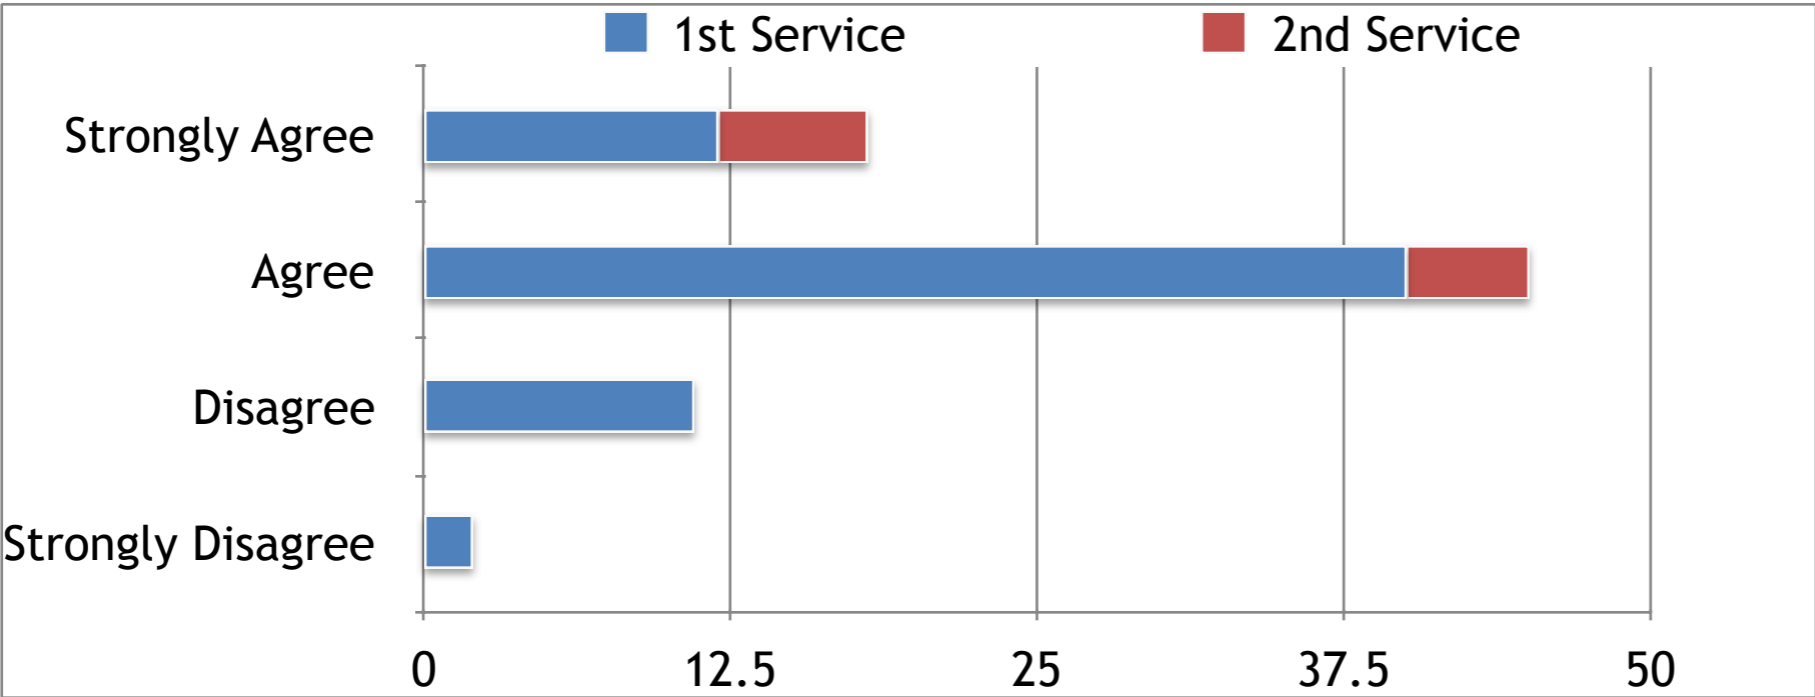

Our church's identity, as it is, is one with which I feel comfortable.

It is easy for me to tell my friends what is unique about our church.

I have a clear understanding of what our church stands for.

An effective effort was made to instruct me in our church's mission.

I have a strong sense of belonging to this congregation.

Being a part of this church has made a difference in my spiritual life.
